

Introduction

It has been six months, since I started working for the company and overall, it is a great experience for me so far. In this text, I would like to sum it up, what I have achieved working here, the problems I encountered and my suggestions for the future.

My Achievements

By working here, I have learned to use many new technologies and improved my skills with the ones I already new. I also learned to be a part of a team, rather than working solo as with my previous employer. The projects me and my coworkers develop are also interesting and allowed me to learn about in fields I would not have considered ever looking into.

My Problems

At first, working here had a steeper learning curve. I had trouble integrating myself into the workplace and felt like a fish out of water. I also didn't understand the company infrastructure at first and didn't realize all the wonderful options the company offers.

Future

I have, however, overcome all my issues and became more productive than ever before. In the future, I would like to learn to use more of the new, bleeding-edge technologies. In addition, I would also like learn more about proper time management and advanced development stragies like SCRUM and AGILE.

Conclusion

To conclude, my time at the company has been great and I enjoyed it quite a lot. I am looking forward to continuing my work and improving myself.
